Summer Time, and the livin’ is easy!

Here is our first double edition, this issue covers both July and August, our next edition will be the September Edition.

Our middle pages this month consist of the glorious Caythorpe Gala and Arnhem Weekend celebrations (which occur on the weekend of 1st & 2nd of September). We absolutely encourage you good people to come along and support this event for many reasons...

- Firstly it’s a fantastic day out with so much going on for all ages.
- Secondly it’s a great way to bump into your neighbours and locals and catch up with all the gossip over a drink and a burger! (Or a cake, the cakes are really REALLY good!).
- Thirdly, there are ample events to enjoy and maybe even win yourselves a prize!
- Fourthly, it’s part of our tradition and history as a village, commemorating the part that this village played in the lead up to the Battle of Arnhem.
- Lastly, and maybe most importantly, it’s the biggest fundraiser for the Playing Fields.

With the demise of the running events, such as The Caythorpe Canter, it’s vitally important that the Gala is as successful and profitable as possible to keep this amenity going. Vital is very much the critical word here. With us all coming together for a fun day out, we help fund the Playing Fields, lets pull together and make their future certain, for our children and for generations to come!

The Magazine is a compact 48 pages this month, we should, good winds prevailing, be back up to our meaty 52 pages for the September Edition! So, We’ll meet again some sunny day (don’t worry, we’re not about to break into song) in the last week of August, until then we wish you a happy, sunny and safe summer! Remember the sun cream, red’s never a good look (Unless its on an Arsenal shirt!) Take care and see you all soon!

Pete & Laura

As the Summer approaches it is appropriate to draw attention to our village Charity which is able to help, in a small way, individuals and organisations within the parish.

Caythorpe-Relief-in-Need Charity was formed in the 1970’s as an amalgamation of several small local charities. The earliest of these was a will of 1753.

The objective of the Charity as stated in the founding document is:-

... shall be to relieve either generally, or individually persons resident in the Parish of Caythorpe who are in conditions of need, hardship or distress.
Additionally the Trustees may make grants of money and/or goods to organisations in the Parish of Caythorpe which are involved in the education, support and welfare of individuals or groups within the Parish of Caythorpe. In exceptional cases the Trustees may grant relief to persons otherwise eligible there for who are resident immediately outside the Parish of Caythorpe.

The Charity has an annual income of about £175 so its resources are pretty limited. If you are involved with a parish organisation, or are aware of anyone or any group who might benefit from a small grant please contact one of the Trustees. For example a grant to provide a prize for a talented youngster or towards an outing for someone otherwise housebound.

The current Trustees are:- Mrs Mary Siddans, Mrs Janet Hoddell, Dr Roger Gee, Mrs Judith Scott, Mrs Liz Welby-Everard and Mr Roger Welby-Everard (Chairman)

My name is Misha Welby-Everard and I live in Frieston. I am 16 years old and am currently working on my GCSE’s. By the time you read this I should have finished all the exams. While I wait nervously for my results, I have decided to raise some money for a worthy cause.

The Little Princess Trust is a charity that provides real hair wigs for boys and girls that suffer hair loss due to illness. More information can be found here www.littleprincess.org.uk

There are two things I’m going to do:

● I’m going to get my hair cut and donate it to the charity. My hair will be sent away and turned into a wig. I hope to provide at least 30cm of useable hair.

I will need your help with the second part…

● I want to raise as much money as possible for the charity. It costs around £300 to make one wig. All money will go to the Little Princess Trust.

Donations can be made at JustGiving.com under Misha Welby-Everard. If you would prefer to make a cash donation, please email mariewelby@icloud.com. I am happy to collect. I am planning to have my hair cut mid July and will share the results once this has been done. Many thanks for your support, Misha

Beetle Drive & Afternoon Tea

Tea, Coffee, Pimms, Cakes & Raffle

Saturday 7th July - 2:30pm for 3pm start

Drew & Dan, two of our young charity globe trotters are hosting a Beetle Drive to help raise money for Global Action, who they are heading to Nepal with. The profits raised through their series of fundraising events goes directly towards this trip, mostly funding the new waterways and materials for building schools and hospital buildings, which they will be helping to install, along with other community projects.

2 Games at £2 per Game

Caythorpe & Frieston Village Hall

Fun for Everyone!
What’s Coming Up?

Hold on...What’s a Beetle Drive??

Beetle is a British party game in which one draws a beetle in parts. The game is entirely based on random die rolls, with no skill involved. Players are in groups of four with a communal die and the first player to complete their beetle shouts out “Beetle!” stopping the play of all the groups. Then the winner of each particular group (the player with the most complete beetle in that group) will move around a circle of tables to the right (clockwise), and the loser (the player with the least complete beetle) to the left (anti-clockwise), or sit still.

The ultimate winner is usually either the one who has drawn the most complete beetles, or the one who has drawn the most parts in total.

Garden Society Annual Open Show
18 August 2018
Caythorpe & Frieston Village Hall

This well established local show is now in its 23rd year and continues to attract great interest from exhibitors and visitors from Caythorpe, Fulbeck and throughout the local area.

The show is open to all amateurs and there is something for all tastes with classes for Fruit and Vegetables, Photography, Floral Art, Cookery and Handicrafts. So why not try your skills this year at Floral Art? (Flower arranging to you and me) It’s a very eye catching section of the show and attracts much interest from visitors.

The classes this year are:

1. “Green and White” flowers and foliage including some ferns
2. “Flowerless Beauty” using foliage, fruit, and berries
3. “The Shard” an upright cone shape of any fresh material
4. Novice Class: an arrangement in a container of own choice

The special novice class is for those who are new to flower arranging or haven’t previously won a prize at the show. No special talent or equipment is necessary. Simply produce an arrangement in a container of your own choice. By the way flower arranging is not just for ladies – there are regular entries from men who often feature amongst the prize winners.

Entry forms and schedules will be available from the Spa shop in Caythorpe and other local outlets from mid July onwards.

Premier League Primary Stars Football Final
After an overnight stay at The Radisson Blu Hotel, our U11’s Girls Football Team made their way to the Premier League Primary Stars National Football Finals, held at the King Power Stadium, home of Leicester City FC. They might not have won but they represented Lincolnshire with determination, teamwork and passion and should be immensely proud of their achievements. They played at a premier league stadium, enjoyed a nosey in the changing rooms, had their games refereed by premiership referees and their supporters were by far the most enthusiastic!

NatWest Money Sense Workshops
Mr O’Mahoney invited some Natwest bank volunteers into school recently to run their Money Sense Workshops, to help our children to make sense of money by focusing on real-life financial situations! The workshops were great and the goody bags were a real treat! KS1 explored the difference between ‘needs’ and ‘wants’, ways in which families spend money and our choices around how to use money. They had great fun working out the things that their chosen pet would actually ‘need’ and what it might ‘want’! KS2 enjoyed costing out a reasonably priced birthday party and presenting their findings to the rest of the class. They looked at ways to save and pay for different aspects of the party and considered ways to reduce costs.

Good To Be Different Day
At Caythorpe Primary School we encourage our pupils to embrace the fact that we are all different! To celebrate just how different we all are, we came to school wearing odd shoes, brightly coloured clothes and crazy hair.

Eggs Hatching
Enchanted Forest and Neverland have shared great excitement this term watching chicks hatch in the comfort of their own classrooms! It was amazing to observe the chicks break a lid off the egg by pecking with their beaks and then step out into the world! Once the chicks had fluffed up and dried out in the incubator the children enjoyed holding them and listening to their cheerful chirping!

Arnhem Weekend

The Battle of Arnhem was part of ‘Operation Market Garden’, a WWII operation in Holland that took place between 17th and 25th September 1944. The aim was to capture nine bridges, the last of which was at Arnhem. British Paratroopers landed at Arnhem expecting to be reinforced within 48 hours, however the reinforcements were delayed and ultimately prevented from reaching them by heavy German forces. The Paratroopers held out for nine whole days, sparsely armed and no match for the Tank and Artillery divisions they faced, they held the Bridge for four days, twice as long as expected for a single division. They bravely held on for nine long days before retreating back over the Rhein, having lost approximately 1,500 men, with 6,500 more captured.

While ultimately the Battle of Arnhem was a defeat, it lives on as a shining example of bravery in the face of overwhelming odds that ‘The Para’s’ have become known for. The Bridge (pictured above, rebuilt in 1948) is now named ‘The John Frost Bridge’, after Major-General John Dutton Frost (1912–1993), who commanded the British forces that reached and defended the bridge. The 1977 Film, ‘A Bridge Too Far’ is based upon this battle.

The regiment was based in and around Caythorpe for training prior to the operation; Holy Cross House (now Holy Cross Gardens) was the Headquarters, the village hall served as a billet and work shops for the blacksmith and boot reparer and the NAAFI was in the upstairs room at the back. Officers and men were billeted in local houses and in Caythorpe Court. After the war a few survivors of the operation started visiting Caythorpe on the anniversary of Arnhem, to visit the Church and remember lost Comrades. As time passed by the event became officially recognised and the 1st Airborne Signals Regiment modern day equivalent, 216 Signals Regiment, now visit annually and hold a memorial service for all comrades lost in Arnhem and other conflicts since. During the Regiment’s service in Aden their camp was called St Vincent’s and this tradition has been carried on in other conflicts. Today when talking to the younger members of the Regiment they consider Caythorpe to be the spiritual home of the 216 Regiment and over the years the Village has always welcomed the Regiment and combine their annual visit with a Gala Weekend. (Caythorpe & Frieston Parish Council webpage)

We commemorate Arnhem in various ways, by the Gala Weekend, with the windows in St. Vincent’s Church and with a parade by members of both the current squadron, and veterans of glorious days of old. Major Graham Clarke, Officer Commanding 216 (Para) Sig Sqn, said: “It is both a privilege and an honour for the Squadron to serve as the custodians of the memory of the Royal Signals’ contribution to Operation Market Garden. Arnhem, while failing to achieve its ambitious strategic objectives, has become a byword for the audacity, fighting spirit and determination of airborne forces. It is vitally important that our soldiers are aware of their history and are able to meet the veterans whose actions have set the standard that we expect the current generation of soldiers to meet. Our links with Caythorpe, which took our predecessors to their heart as they prepared for Arnhem, is also something that we greatly treasure and enjoy coming back to celebrate every year.”

In & Around The Garden

Warmer weather and a bit of rain have sent plant growth into overdrive. Early summer perennials are now in flower and foxgloves make an impact in partial shade. The latter are biennials, which is a nuisance as to keep them going from year to year some must be allowed to seed. This means leaving gaunt bare stems for weeks after flowering, and later moving the seedlings. They rarely come up where I actually want them, but their tall columns of white or purple flowers are well worth the trouble. Most of the bulbs have finished, but now in mid June Allium christophii is looking its best with huge spheres of steely purple flowers. The best clump is one I didn’t plant – I must have been careless when removing the spent seed heads a few years back. I always cut them down reluctantly as they are very architectural even when dead, but the seeds go everywhere if left to ripen. Sadly the tree fern failed to survive the winter despite being wrapped up. I should have followed the advice ‘Right plant, right place’. Its replacement is a fully hardy fern Male Fern (Dryopteris wallichiana) better suited to our erratic climate. It can be fussy about where it grows, but at least it shouldn’t die of cold.

One sunny day I spotted a pair of Chaser dragonflies flying over the pond joined together as they mated. When they separated I could see that the male had a powder blue abdomen, but the female was yellow-orange. The male patrolled the pond while she laid her eggs, flying low over the water and dipping the end of her abdomen just below the surface. I tried to identify the exact species, but there are several that look quite similar.

The garden is noisy with new fledglings pipping to stay in touch with their parents. Blackbirds, blue tits and great tits seem to have done well, though several have fallen victim to the sparrow hawk. I heard a great commotion of alarm calls at the end of the garden and went to investigate, thinking there might be a cat. Instead I disturbed a male sparrow hawk, which flew off with its kill as I approached, leaving a scattering of black feathers on the ground. A few days later the same racket started up next door, so he must have had another successful hunt.

I bought some suet balls instead of the harder fat balls, and they have found favour with a lot of birds including a few starlings, rare visitors to our garden. Sparrows have also made regular visits: this is very unusual, for although the beech hedge at the end of the road is usually full of them they seldom come as far down as our patch. This year several pairs with their offspring have stopped by daily for the past few weeks—perhaps because I bought better quality balls – and it is a pleasure to see them.
June was a busy month for the society. Early in the month two members opened their beautiful Caythorpe garden for afternoon tea. The day was warm and sunny, and the garden looked and smelled wonderful with foxgloves and lots of roses and in full bloom. Many thanks for a lovely afternoon. We are also looking forward to the summer social in Fulbeck, an evening event with buffet supper in another beautiful garden.

The speaker for the June talk was Doug Stewart, who has spent his working life in horticulture as teacher, adviser, researcher and grower. His topic was ‘Gardening in the Future’ and he gave us a fascinating overview of the methods and products developed from scientific research that are becoming accepted by both amateurs and professionals to improve plant health and productivity, while reducing the impact on the natural environment. Delivered with enthusiasm and anecdotes that had us all laughing, Doug outlined some recent advances. Plant breeders now select for pest and disease resistance, aspirin and seaweed extract promote stems and leaves that are tougher for pests to penetrate, and potato starch stops aphids breeding. Parasitic nematodes and wasps that target specific pests are now widely used in greenhouses, and smart technology is being harnessed to ensure that pesticides are only used when and where they are needed, replacing routine spraying. Sheep’s wool pellets are showing promise against slugs and snails, and pheromone traps reduce populations of moths that attack tree fruits. What’s more, these methods are proving to be cheaper than synthetic chemicals, a major factor in their acceptance by professional growers. Research continues into biopesticides, and as an organic gardener, Doug is watching developments with interest, as maybe we all should.

Our July meeting will be on the 10th in Carlton Scroop Village Hall, 7:30 for 7:45. Rachel Petheram will be speaking on ‘The Cutting Flower Garden’: visitors welcome (£3) – just come along. For information on joining the society contact David Fidler on 01400 272630.

Ramblings of The Old Rector

THIS IS A FIFA-FREE ZONE.

If you have been so caught up in the shenanigans in Westminster over Brexit that you have not yet planned your holiday, this column is for you!

My first piece of advice is to cast away all travel writing, whether in the newspapers or magazines or in the travel sections of good bookshops. You can do much better by yourself. Now, where would you like to go? I have reached the time of life when I feel more comfortable visiting places I have enjoyed before; where I know the car parks, the restaurants, the comfortable hotels and even some of the local ‘characters’. But that is not to say that new places are totally absent from the itinerary, just that I’ve lost the urge to travel by boat up the remoter rivers of Colombia, or hike across the Hindu Kush. In, fact, I’m not sure that I ever had such urges.

Having decided on the country, and that your bank can afford for you to go there, you now have to decide on the mode of travel – air, sea, train or car. For me, the car wins hands down every time, because once you’ve stored your luggage on board you then carry only what you require into and out of your stopping place. Furthermore, you can change your mind on a sudden whim, which distinguishes the traveller from the tourist. There are two things to bear in mind with a car: theft and breakdown. For the former you must buy adequate insurance; for the latter I store on-board luggage in three suitcases, so that if I have to abandon the car, I can bring most of my chattels with me in the breakdown vehicle. Having catered for those two things put such negative thoughts out of mind.

You can now get down to the best part of the entire holiday, the planning. This can take several weeks and at least a ream of computer printer paper, because you will want to print your chosen itinerary (I use Microsoft Autoroute 2010 despite the fact that it’s out of date) and having printed it you will change your mind and print the revision. And so it goes on. But it’s fun. I once printed a twenty-four-day route only to reverse it entirely, and found that going the other way around was much more satisfactory.

If you decide to travel to France, the Michelin Red Guide is essential for both hotels and town plans. Write on a blank sheet of paper the towns you really must visit; it might be, say, Tours, Perpignan, Troyes, Cahors, Amiens, Auxerre and Chartres. Oh dear! If you really must go to Perpignan then you cannot miss out Toulouse and Carcassonne. And if you are going that close you must also see Albi, for the Hotel Cantepau is comfortable and cheap and a five minute walk across the bridge from the astounding cathedral. And if you are to visit Cahors, and you should, why not go to Albi via the Lot valley and Rodez, calling at the ancient pilgrimage village of Conques on the way? Don’t stay in Troyes, it’s only an hour from Auxerre, which is a much nicer place to stay and the Hotel Normandie has a garage which is locked at night. You get the drift?
I always plan to start the day’s driving at 08:00 and to finish by lunchtime. A short hop is the trick to staying fresh day after day, and try to stay a few nights in one place after every three one-night stops. When you are content with the itinerary print it out and keep it in the pending file. Look at it daily and when it is unaltered for ten days then, and only then, you can start ringing up the hotels to book rooms. Do not book through a UK agency. Deal with the hotel direct and you can negotiate a refundable price should you change your mind. And if you have just started planning to depart in the next few weeks, you could benefit from last-minute deals if the hotel has not sold all its rooms. A credit card guarantees the room. I always email a copy of my telephone booking and ask for a confirmation number. This is not always forthcoming without a further request, but at last, armed with a sheaf of emails, your journey is taking shape. It is not in concrete, because you do not want it that firm. I often change my itinerary about six days into the journey and providing you give a day or two notice to the hotels, you incur no charge, although you might get a few uncivil grunts. This is also the time to book your Shuttle crossing. I am the man who swore never to travel through the Channel Tunnel, now I never travel any other way. It’s easy, its efficient (most of the time) and it is not affected by weather. If you arrive early ask for an earlier departure. If you are going through Austria or Switzerland, buy a motorway “Vignette” on the internet before you leave, for it will save you queuing at the border. With the little sticker in the windscrean the border police will wave you through.

Like Her Majesty, I always take my own pillows. I cannot get on with the variety of continental nylon squares, bolsters and the like. They also form good and safe padding for fragile glassware and electrical items in the suitcase. ‘Glassware?’ I hear you cry. Certainly. Having unpacked, there is nothing finer than to sit down on the balcony of your hotel, looking out over the Mediterranean (always pay the extra for a sea-view) as the day draws to a close, and pour a libation of a G&T or a single malt. But all you can find in your room is a plastic tumbler in the bathroom or an uncertain glass in the minibar. You can do better than that. Always abscond from home with a good lead crystal spirit glass or two; you know it makes sense! Another must for me is my portable CD player. I carry a good selection in the car CD-changer, but I also like music while sitting on the balcony with the same libation, or it might well be the second one by now. It beats bells out of watching Canal+ TV.

Don’t forget to take with you a comfortable folding chair for a reflective rest from the driving seat at some panoramic view. It will be useful in some hotel rooms. You invariably take too much clothing, so once you’ve packed, take out a third of the clothing and put it back in the wardrobe. You won’t miss it, unless you put back all your shirts. I throw a blazer in the back of the car if the journey is to last three or four weeks, on the basis that the odds become greater as time goes by that you’ll be invited to some function, and a blazer will always see you through.

Well, I hope that helps you to get going. Just one thing more; if you intend to buy robust cheese in France – buy it on the day you come home! All this distilled wisdom stems from my years of travelling, and it seemed a shame to waste it!

So, Bon voyage!

Brian Lucas. (The Last Rector of Caythorpe)

This will allow parents to take advantage, if eligible, of the new 30 hours government childcare funding that started in September and also better suit what many parents need. Whether you currently have a child at Pre-School, or not, if you are interested in using our extended opening hours we’d love to hear from you. You can contact us on caythorpepreschool@gmail.com any time or give us a ring on 01400 272036 during term time.
The May meeting was our AGM. The Annual Subscription will remain the same while funds are still healthy, welcome news for all.

We intend to continue with a varied programme for the forthcoming year with several speakers being approached. So watch this space.

Our resident Website designer and all round support for the project is now up and running again, which will reinvigorate the process of organising and uploading sufficient information to make the site public. This is a long term project as there is so much to incorporate (and learn). Dropbox is beginning to prove its worth as a carrier of information in the cloud and vehicle for organising any editing before being put on the website.

CHILD OF THE UNIVERSE

A while ago a woman reminded me of the way children sometimes write their address (do they still do this?). Mine would be Perhaps you remember doing that! When we look at a map of the universe it’s impossible to see the blob which is England, never mind Beckingham, or the minute blob which is me! The vastness is incredible. But my friend went on to say that the wonder of it all is that in the middle of this vastness, God knows each one of us. It’s like the picture that the Lotto adverts used to show, of a finger coming out of the sky, pointing to someone and saying, “It could be you”. But it’s God pointing down and saying, “It is YOU – you that I love.” My friend felt that love surrounding and filling her.

You might think that she must have been having a wonderful time, with everything going right for her, but you’d be wrong. She had only a few weeks to live, but she knew that finger pointing at her, and God’s love surrounding and filling her – much better than winning the Lottery. She was aglow with the love of God, and an inspiration to everyone who visited her in those weeks.

For me it was a profound reminder of the transforming power of the love of God which opens its arms wide to embrace each one of us. To live and die within that love is to live and die with great riches and confidence. May we each respond with joy to that love coming to us within the vastness of the Universe.

And perhaps those lines from Max Ehrmann’s ‘Desiderata’ can inspire us.

‘Be gentle with yourself.
You are a child of the universe no less than the trees and the stars;
you have a right to be here.
And whether or not it is clear to you,
no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should.
Therefore be at peace with God, whatever you conceive Him to be.
And whatever your labours and aspirations, in the noisy confusion of life, keep peace in your soul.
With all its sham, drudgery and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world.
Be cheerful. Strive to be happy.’

What an interesting evening we all had at our June meeting. President, Pauline welcomed members and especially Iris Gerard, who has renewed her membership after a few years absence and Rachel Page who visited us for the second time. We will hopefully be welcoming her as a full member very soon, it is lovely to see younger people being interested in all the Women’s Institute has to offer and would encourage more to consider being involved.

Pauline worked through the business; we will be having a Hoopla stall again at the Gala in September and she has requested items to be given as prizes (for a child or adult), our 65th birthday party in July (see below) and lots of events organised by Lincolnshire South Federation. She then gave her report as our delegate of the Annual meeting last week which had been held in Cardiff.

It sounded like the hundreds of delegates attending had a whale of a time enjoying the beautiful city and the fascinating speakers at the conference. Pauline seemed quite taken with Huw Edwards the broadcaster who spoke about his own mental health issues before he had received help and was able to lose three stones in weight. Mental Health Matters was, as reported in last month’s News and Views, this year’s resolution to be discussed. 98% of members voted in favour including our WI. Her report tied in nicely with our speaker for the evening who Pauline then introduced to us.

Nicole Woodcock became a Solution Focused Hypnotherapist after suffering postnatal depression immediately after the birth of her first child. She found that the expertise of another hypnotherapist really benefitted her and enabled her to function again, to the point that she became so interested in the subject; she trained for several years to become qualified herself. Hypnotherapy is a neuroscience which she briefly demonstrated using diagrams of the brain and explaining how different parts of the brain control our emotions, thoughts and fears.

Two years ago Nicole founded Hummingbird Hypnotherapy which has enabled her to assist those struggling with day to day issues; Anxiety, Depression, Stress, Anger, Phobias, Pain, OCD, Autism and much more. In 2017 she won a Peterborough New Business Award for her dedication to business and spreading the word about the importance of looking after oneself. Her clients are aged from 5-85 and by using solution focused hypnotherapy she is helping them to find a positive future by approaching their issues in a friendly and person-centred way. Janet Hoddell gave the vote of thanks.

OUR ANNUAL OUTING ON 9TH AUGUST IS TO THE CRICH TRAMWAY MUSEUM IN DERBYSHIRE. IT IS A WONDERFUL DAY OUT FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY WITH LOTS TO SEE AND DO. WE ARE OPENING THE TRIP TO THE GENERAL PUBLIC TO ENABLE US TO FILL THE COACH. THE COST IS £10 PER PERSON FOR A SEAT ON THE COACH.

You will pay for entry to the Museum yourself as there are various options available. IF YOU ARE INTERESTED IN JOINING US THIS YEAR, PLEASE CONTACT PAULINE DOREY FOR MORE INFORMATION ON 01400 272015.
Our next meeting will be on Thursday 12th July at Caythorpe Village Hall at 2-4pm and not in the evening as usual. This is because we will be celebrating our 65th birthday with an afternoon tea party where all members are asked to wear something blue in keeping with the theme of our rainbow competition next month. We will also be having the ‘flower of the month’ competition with all proceeds from that going to support Associated Country Women of the World. The members who have volunteered to make cakes etc. or donate food items for the party, are asked to please bring it a little earlier. We look forward to seeing you all again in July.

Letters to the Editors

Dear News & Views

My name is Ivor Thomas and I live in Caythorpe

I am disabled and having spoken to the workmen doing the work in the Waggon asking them about disabled access, they informed that there are no plans for a toilet for the disabled. Surely in this day and age this can't be right?

Ivor Thomas - Caythorpe Resident

Hi Ivor,

Thank you for your letter, we felt that we needed to pass your comments onto the new owners of the Waggon & Horses for comment, please see their response below. N&V

Dear Ivor

The Waggon & Horses is a Grade II listed building and there has never been disabled toilet access. However, we are seeking advice and guidance on how best to resolve this and will work within the national planning and policy framework to ensure facilities are provided. As a short term solution we are putting in a portable disabled toilet. We look forward to welcoming you at the Waggon & Horses.
