From The Revd Alison Healy

I hope that you have had a chance to study the new rota of service for November and will be able to come and join us at either St Vincent's or our two St Nicholas's churches! You would of course be welcome at the services in our other group of parishes; I draw your attention to the All Souls Commemoration service at Brant Broughton at 7pm on Tuesday 4th November where we will be remembering lost loved ones.

Talking of remembering St Vincent's will host the Remembrance Day Requiem Holy Communion at 9.15 to 10.15 on Sunday 9th November and then there will be a further service at 10.45 to 11.15 moving from the church to the War Memorial. On Remembrance Day itself, St Vincent's will host the Remembrance Day service from 10.45 am in church for the two groups of parishes.

St Vincent's will also hold an Advent Carols and Communion service on Sunday 30th November at 10am. Do come along and support us where you will be asked to pray especially for the Parochial Church Council who have agreed to take part in a series of meetings over Advent in our very own version of Truth and Reconciliation! We are attempting to work through past differences and come out the other side with renewed hope and vigour and a positive outlook on moving forwards together. Please pray for us and support us by coming to the Carol Service on Monday 22nd December at 6.30pm where we hope to greet Christ's birth with great peacefulness and joy!

Act of Remembrance 9th November 2014

The Act of Remembrance at the War Memorial on Sunday 9th November at 10.45am has been organised by the Parish Council.

The Brownies, Guides and Scouts will be present, wreaths will be laid, names of the fallen will be read out and a two minute silence will be observed, with the Last Post and Reveille.

All are welcome to join in this Act of Remembrance.

Please note that, unlike previous years, there is no service in St Vincent's Church at 10.15 preceding this, but there is a Requiem Eucharist at 9.15am ending at approximately 10.00 am

Caythorpe War Memorial

As many of you will know, the Brownies decorate the Church for Remembrance Sunday and lay crosses to honour the dead commemorated on the Memorial.

Recently, they have also made small booklets, with details of each soldier who died in the Great War listed on the monument. The booklets will be on display in the Church during Remembrance weekend.

A big thank you to the Brownies and to Brown Owl, Denise Lyon, and to Joy Lucas and Sue Woodhouse for all their hard work

From: The Bishop of Lincoln

This year's time of remembrance is particularly poignant, given that it is the centenary of the dreadful tragic events of the First World War. By the end of the war a million British men were dead, and two million more had been wounded. There was not a single family unacquainted with grief, nor a corner of life unaffected.

Many of us have become familiar with the story of Amy Beechey, a mother from Lincoln who saw eight sons go to war, and only three return. We can only imagine her grief; but every day of the war, her pain was known and understood by grieving relatives in households all over England. The horror of the trenches, the scale of the slaughter, the tragic loss of so much human potential – all these things meant that long-held notions of an all-powerful God began to be questioned. Put simply: If God is loving and all-powerful, how could evil be allowed to flourish on this devastating scale? And why would we continue to trust in a God seemingly indifferent to our fate?

One person who wrestled with these questions was Geoffrey Studdert Kennedy, an army chaplain who earned the nickname Woodbine Willie for handing out cigarettes to the troops at the same time as copies of the New Testament.

Woodbine Willie insisted on being on the front line with the troops whenever he could, and those battlefield experiences forced him to confront depths of evil and suffering which few of us will ever see.

Having entered the war with a secure faith in God and an abstract notion of evil, he ended it being absolutely certain of the existence of evil as a real and palpable force at work in the world. The challenge, then, was to find a way to reconcile all that he had seen in the trenches with the existence of a God who was worth believing in.

For Woodbine Willie, hope came with an understanding that God was no longer a remote and detached figure at the peak of a great social pyramid. No longer was God the almighty force of his pre-war understanding, able to prevent humans from harming one another if he so chose. Instead, God was present in the heat of battle, suffering along with humanity, in the intolerable conditions of the trenches, in the endless slaughter of young lives, in the agony of Amy Beechey and all those like her back home. God was characterised not by force and power, but by love; no longer remote from all that was going on, but intimately connected with it and suffering through it.

Writing in 1918, he said this:

‘God loves us enough to bear our burdens and suffer along with us; the destruction of war will not have the final word, because Christ’s example promises us resurrection from death.’

The first world war brought the horrifying reality of modern warfare to every home in the land; it brought a new awareness that God is not distant and other, but is involved through Jesus Christ in our struggles and sufferings. Despite all the evil in the world we continue to have faith in this God: the God who brings love out of hate; light out of darkness; justice out of oppression; good out of evil; and life out of death.

This is our God: the God of Love and Resurrection.

CAYTHORPE WITH FRIESTON WAR MEMORIALS

The War Memorials which have been erected in memory of the local men who gave their lives in the great war were unveiled and dedicated on Sunday. The principal one takes the form of a Cross (designed by that eminent architect, Sir Reginald Blomfield) an exact replica on a smaller scale of those being erected in the British cemeteries abroad. It occupies a commanding position on a site (kindly given by Sir E H Packe, KBE) near the main entrance to the Parish Church, and facing the main street. It is 14ft 6in in height and is built of Portland stone. Inset on the Cross is a massive bronze sword, the emblem of the fighting man, and inscribed on the plinth the words "To the memory of the men of this parish who gave their lives in the Great War, 1914 – 1919)". In addition to the Cross, two tablets, containing the names of the twenty-three fallen men, have been placed one in the Parish Church and one in the Wesleyan Chapel. These tablets, also the design of Sir Reginald Blomfield, are in Hopton Wood stone, mounted on black marble bases. The work has been carried out by Messrs H. T. Jenkins and Sons, marble merchants of Torquay. The inscription on the tablets is: "To the Glory of God, and in the memory of the men of this Parish who gave their lives for their country 1914-1919". Then follows the "Roll of Honour" – R S Anderson, A Bates, A Bird, A Carr, A Charles, J Covell, H Cooper, W Crowley, H Fisher, T Green, R Handley, J Hampsall, J Lound, W Lound, T Lound, A Parr, T Richmond, J F Royds, G Speed, G Waudby, G Wells, W Wetherill and D Wetherill.

Immediately proceeding the special dedication service, which took place in the Parish church at three o'clock, the ringers rang a muffled peal. A very appropriate service was conducted by the Rev. F M P Sherriffs, and special hymns, psalms, and prayers were used. The Church was quite filled and the service was very impressive. After the tablet had been unveiled, it was dedicated by the Rector. "To the Glory of God and in memory of the men from this Parish who gave their lives for this country.". Prayers were offered for the departed, and then the beautiful hymn used in the burial service "God of the living in Whose eyes" was feelingly sung by choir and congregation.

After this service, the congregation took up their position near the Cross. The unveiling was performed by Lieut-Col E Royds MP who drew from it the Union Jack saying "With all reverence I unveil this memorial to the men of this Parish who gave their lives in the great war, 1914-1919". The rector then dedicated the Cross.

Col. Royds, in a very appropriate speech, said it was very natural and proper that they should be proud of these men whom they remembered that day and that they should wish to raise that memorial in token of their gratitude. When they thought of their achievements of their men in the great war, certain qualities stood out above everything else – their courage, cheerfulness, unselfishness, and their spirit of self-sacrifice. If one were to ask how or why their men possessed these attributes, the answer would soon be forthcoming - because they were Englishmen and we all knew that the average Englishman held dear and practiced the old Christian virtues inherent in all English people, faith, hope, and charity. They had faith in their leaders and in their cause: hope of ultimate victory, and that right must beat might: and charity – love of the land that gave them birth, love of King and love of home. We entered the war with very high ideals, and he hoped that now that the war was over we should not lose sight of these high ideals. The Cross they had just unveiled and dedicated had been raised “In Remembrance” and he hoped that it would serve to remind them when they saw it of those noble men who had made the great sacrifice, and by whose death they had gained the victory. It was left to us all to strengthen and consolidate the position that they, by their heroic self sacrifice, had gained for us. The English people were sound at heart and they wanted to think a little. The stone or Cross of Remembrance would help them to do so.

The choir sang the hymn “The King of Love my Shepherd is”, after which the Rector pronounced the Blessing. To buglers from the RAF Station at Cranwell sounded the “Last Post”.

The contract price for the erection of the Cross was £240 complete and the cost of the tablets £33 10s

From an earlier edition of Grantham Journal

CAYTHORPE

The war memorial, which takes the form of a Cross, has now been erected, from a design by Sir Reginald Blomfield. It is an exact replica of those erected by the British Government in the British Cemeteries abroad. In addition to the Cross, tablets, on which are inscribed the names of all who made the great sacrifice have been affixed in the Parish Church and in the Wesleyal (sic) Church. Col Royds MP has promised to perform the opening ceremony which takes place on Sunday October 10th. The whole cost of the Cross is £230 and the Tablets £33 10s each, £297 in all. £227 has been subscribed therefore a further £70 is required. The Hon Secretary, Mr G W King will be pleased to receive any further contributions.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Sir, I feel I must register my concern regarding the selfish and inconsiderate parking in the village.

Vehicles are regularly parked with two wheels on the pavement for no other reason than protecting the vehicle from other traffic.

If you walk around the village you see examples of it everywhere and it makes access via the pavement impossible for the disabled, elderly and parents with pushchairs.

We found it ironic in your October edition page 20, the council were reminding residents to trim hanging trees and vegetation that make accessing pavements difficult. Yet they make no effort to remove cars parked illegally on the pavement.

We finally tracked down our local PCSO to ask why this illegal parking wasn't being addressed. The PCSO waffled on for ages about how they followed a softly-softly approach with motorists and preferred to speak to them rather than hand out tickets. We pointed out when they catch a motorist speeding there isn't the same leeway, perhaps because revenue is created in issuing speeding fines?

It did cross our minds that we hadn't ever actually seen a PCSO walking a 'beat' of any description in the village.

District Councillors Report

Bob Sampson

01400 273873

The Scottish referendum has decided to remain united, what does that mean for us? The “vow” made by various leaders at Westminster, what does that mean for us? All sorts of talk about devolution and devolved powers throughout the United Kingdom could involve us!

Already and prior to the referendum here in South Kesteven there is discussion and fears that Lincolnshire County Council may become a Unitary Authority. Accordingly at a meeting in Grantham of the Charter Trustees there were discussions of potentially creating a Town Council. Stamford, Bourne and Market Deeping already have town councils. A petition calling for South Kesteven District Council to begin the process of setting up a town council is currently in place for Grantham residents/registered electorate to sign, it requires 2500 signatures for the motion to go before a public meeting at the council. What about the rural community? we may ask, a very good question and one that I constantly raise with other District Councillors and senior officers within SKDC. We are always reading about initiatives and events in the four market towns but very rarely do any of the rural areas get a mention about their community projects and events. Why is there such a lack of support and interest in the ninety or so villages and hamlets that make up the majority of the area within the District Council? we all pay the same rate of council tax (excepting varying Parish Precepts) to SKDC. Who knows, but wider change is definitely afoot , this needs to be monitored closely to protect our rural communities in the future.

The District Council has recently addressed itself from within in order to achieve further economies in addition to all the savings that it has brought about during the last three years. Much of this is due to the reduction in the Central Government Grant to local authorities. A programme entitled “Fit for the Future” was recently presented to District Councillors. Essentially to maintain having a well run Council it was recognised that there is a need to manage the business differently to achieve further economies and this will inevitably lead to having a smaller and more flexible workforce. A revised management and people strategy is currently under review to achieve further savings to assist the balancing of the council’s future budget forecasts.

Already the effects of economy of dissemination of development control information imparted to Parish Councils and planning objectors has been noticed. Efforts to streamline such communications are quite undemocratic and above all discriminatory against individuals without internet access, this has already been brought to the attention of the SKDC Chief Executive and senior officers.

An Act of Parliament is presently dealing with electoral reform. One of the subjects before it is the renaming of our present Heath Ward to Loveden Heath Ward and to extension of the ward to embrace the parishes of Hough-on-the-Hill, Stubton and Fenton.

My Future “open surgery “ dates are:

Caythorpe and District Garden Society

The speaker for our October meeting dealt with a single genus of plants – Euphorbia, or spurges as they are commonly known. Don Whitton holds a National Collection of 138 different species and varieties that has featured on several TV gardening programmes. The genus Euphorbia is very large and includes poinsettias and a number of strange thorny sub-tropical succulents that look rather like cacti, but Don concentrates on hardy species that will grow happily outdoors on his Sheffield allotment.

Most of the hardy perennial species have slender lance-shaped leaves growing on unbranched stems with a cluster of flowers at the tip. Leaf colour varies from deep purple through to pale green variegated with white, including cool glaucous blues and even silver. The flowers have no petals, but are surrounded by colourful bracts in shades of yellow, red, green or brown, that are longer lasting than petals would be. Some species are evergreen, with new shoots arising to add interest to the winter garden as the old ones die back. Deciduous species die back to fat buds at ground level, but these come into growth in early spring and quickly become covered in ‘flowers’. They associate well with other hardy perennials, the acid yellow types looking particularly good with blue flowered companions. One or two spread enthusiastically by means of runners and need siting with care, but most form a well behaved clump and some of the lower growing species will trail over a rockery. Don raised one note of caution – the milky sap that exudes from wounds can be irritating, especially in contact with eyes and other delicate areas, so wear gloves when tidying the clumps.

Many of our members already grow one or two Euphorbias, but after Don’s lively and very entertaining talk, illustrated with excellent slides, there was a crowd around the plants for sale as we bought new varieties to try. It is easy to be inspired by a true enthusiast.

Our guest speaker in November will be Steffie Shields, writer, photographer and garden historian, whose subject is ‘The Artist in the Garden’. Visitors (£3) will be most welcome – just come along to Carlton Scroop Village Hall on 11 Nov at 7:30. For membership information contact David Fidler on 01400 272630.

CAYTHORPE FIREWORKS DISPLAY

will be held on the Playing Field on Saturday 8th November 2014.

Albert Einstein lectures at Carlton Scroop ...!

On Saturday 4 October, Carlton Scroop and Normanton-on-Cliffe village hall hosted a performance of "Albert Einstein: Relativitively Speaking". This professional theatre production by Tangram Theatre Company was subsidised by Lincs Rural Community Touring Programme, an initiative that supports arts and culture in rural communities.

Performed at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival, The Times said 'Here's a treasure ... handled with something close to brilliance ... This one's a winner' and they were not wrong! Around 80 audience members enjoyed a musical comedy evening set in a lecture theatre at Princeton University in America. The performance, a lecture by Albert himself, told his life story and used songs and clowning together with hilarious audience participation to explain the theory of relativity, black holes and much more.

Feedback was excellent "That was fantastic value for money – we really enjoyed it" "Please let's do more of this – that was a great show" "I didn't know what to expect, but that was so funny and a great evening out".

Writer-performer John Hinton stayed around and held a Q&A session as himself with the audience. He explained his interest in Einstein, his drama and theatrical training, and humorously answered a whole range of questions. Lastly, "what show are you doing next and will you please come back next year?!".

Next production

Supported by the Rural Touring Programme, Carlton Scroop and Normanton-on-Cliffe Village Hall is also hosting a performance of Rapunzel on Friday 5th December at 6pm. This is also a professional theatre production suitable for ages 5 years upwards and is aimed at families with school age children.

Tickets are keenly priced at £5.00 for children, £7.50 for adults and £20.00 for a family ticket (2 adults & 2 children). Available from Sandra on 01400 250513

CAYTHORPE CHASE

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the people who helped to make the 18th Caythorpe Chase such a success, from the Ladies booking in people taking part to the Ladies in the kitchen and the wonderful food they produced, the car parking people and finally the Marshalls around the course keeping everyone on the right track. It was a lovely sunny day which went with the whole event which I know everyone enjoyed. Once again MANY THANKS. David Dorey

CAYTHORPE & FRIESTON COMMUNITY HEARTBEAT PROJECT

Many thanks to Kathy & John Romeo and the Monday Health Walkers for their very generous donation of £100 to our Project

The fourth Defibrillator has now been installed in Chapel Lane, on the wall of the Old Chapel - special thanks to Amanda Knox for allowing us to site the equipment on her property.

Caythorpe and District WI

On Thursday 9th October, the ladies of Caythorpe & District W.I. met and enjoyed an evening of puddings. Most ladies tried as many of the puddings as they could and it has to be said, they were all delicious. There was no outstanding winner; there were 2 first places, 4 seconds and 2 thirds. Too many to name individually, but thank you to all members that supplied puddings. Flower of the month was won by Carol Tointon, Linda Stevens 2nd and Pauline Dorey 3rd, the raffle was won by Angela Turner. We have had several new members join us, and they are very welcome.

We have room for more, so please come along to our meetings that are held at the Village Hall every second Thursday of the month at 7:30pm in the back room. In November we are going to be given a Sugar Icing demonstration with Mandy Prior, so come along and be inspired!

Festival Singers

After several successful Summer concerts, the Festival Singers are now working on a repertoire for Christmas under the expert guidance of choir master Stuart Freshney. This includes four beautiful pieces by the well-known English composer John Rutter, as well as Christmas classics and lesser known songs.

The Festival Singers' Caythorpe Christmas Concert will take place on Saturday 20th December.

There will also be a concert in St. Anne's Church in Grantham on 13th December and others around the villages will be announced later. Rest assured that there will be plenty of traditional carols for audiences to join in.

Parish Council News.....November 2014.

Community grants....The Parish Council has an annual budget in order that we are able to make one off grants to local organisations. In making such a grant it is important that we establish that there is both a financial need and that any money that is given will benefit as wide a section of the community as possible. If you feel that the aims and objectives of your organisation would be able to benefit from such a grant please contact the Parish Clerk who will let you have a copy of the brief but necessary paperwork that must be completed. The Parish Council next meet on Wednesday November 19th so please submit your application at least one week before that date in order that we are able to include it on our agenda.

Caythorpe News.....This edition will be the penultimate one for Roger Welby-Everard who has been Editor for some ten years. The publication is an important reference point for so many of the events and activities that take place within the parish. The task of producing this magazine for such a long period of time cannot have been an easy one and I would like to express all our thanks to Roger for all his hard work and dedication.

In addition Mrs Janet Hoddell will also be stepping down at the same time having organised the delivery and distribution of the magazine for some considerable period of time. Our thanks must therefore also go to Janet for having run such an important operation so smoothly.

A note of thanks.....October saw the retirement of local farmer Mr. Dennis Rossington. A well known figure within the community he was always very willing to let the village borrow his land for the annual Bonfire night as well as supporting many other events so generously. We wish him well in his retirement which also sees him leave the village.

Parish Councillors.....In May next year the current Parish Council will come to the end of its elected term. If you are considering wishing to act as a Parish Councillor and wish to find out more about this role please do not hesitate to contact any of the above or perhaps even attend all or part of one of our meetings in order to see first hand what is involved.

Forthcoming meetingThe next meeting of your Parish Council will be held in the Village Hall on Wednesday 19th November. The meeting will start at 7.15pm at which time residents are able to comment on and draw matters to the attention of the meeting and then to attend but not participate in the main part of the meeting which commences at 7.30pm.

Bruce Nelson.....Chairman.
